Spring 2014 - Present

I've enjoyed being an active baseball player (Spring, Summer, and Fall leagues) from an early age. I've been fortunate to be a part of many strong teams, build long-lasting friendships, and compete in high-pressure tournament environments throughout my playing career. The life lessons learned are many; however, understanding what it takes to be a true team player, always striving to encourage my teammates, and never giving up regardless of the scoreboard are values that have been deeply instilled in me. These values will follow me throughout my professional career.
